Domain Systems Launches Affiliate Program

Salt Lake City, Utah - August 12, 2003

Domain Systems, Inc. an information technology systems integrator, software developer and engineering consulting organization today announced the launch of their new Affiliate Program.

Domain Systems' Affiliate Program is a value-added resource for Domain Systems' clients and consultants. The Affiliate Program is designed to create a strong alliance between "Best in Class" consultants and the project opportunities of Domain Systems. "With current market conditions, we feel the Affiliate Program is a great way to enhance the proven 'Time-to-Value' methodology we provide our clients and, at the same time, reward our consultants for providing value to our services offerings," explains Joshua Jensen, the manager of the Affiliate Program.

Members of Domain Systems' Affiliate Program will benefit by leveraging the expertise and network of Domain Systems to enhance their marketability, industry knowledge, and skill development. Domain Systems' exclusive network will also allow members to synchronize efforts in problem-solving, facilitate new technology development and expand their professional relationships through the Affiliate Program's established user group.

Domain Systems' clients will realize the benefits of the Affiliate Program through enhanced service capabilities, improved response time, lower cost solutions and constricted delivery timelines.
